BETHEL, MAINE 04217

DEDICATION:

WILLIAM COUSINS

"Two Number Two Pencils!!!" These words of wisdom will no longer echo over the heads of dozing Gould students at Assemblies. Bill Cousins after 34 years of distinguished service is ending his career at Gould Academy. He has taught math, coached many sports, helped and advised countless students, provided some thrilling large vehicle driving experiences, appeared in memorable stage productions, and has contributed significantly to the life and spirit of the school while at the same time maintaining an active role in community affairs. The good news is that Mr. and Mrs. Cousins will still be living in Bethel. The Class of 1993 wishes them all the best and dedicates its yearbook to Mr. Cousins for all he has done for Gould. We hope they will not be strangers to Gould in the coming years.

APPRECIATION:

JIM FISKE

Mr. Fiske is leaving Gould after fourteen years as the Academy's chemistry guru. His first love has always been the classroom, and the former "Maine Teacher of the Year" will not be leaving teaching. The Class of 1993 offers this page of appreciation to Mr. Fiske for his dedicated teaching and spirited coaching at Gould. Whenever he gets choked up with nostalgia for the good old days, we will hold a spot for Mr. Fiske in the dish duty rotation. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Fiske well and are glad they will still be in Bethel.

ORIENTATION

Every year at Gould requires many kinds of orientation, not to mention disorientation. Orientation trips help new students, but everyone needs to work at getting back in gear. Pictured above is Aaron Yecies working hard at his first dish duty; to his right the Mount Washington Orientation Trip bridges a gap above Mr. Davis helping seniors get organized; below the all-knowing Mac Carlota, Amber, and Ianna hope they are ready for lunch, which means passing below the Gehring motto to their left.

Personal approaches to orientation: Keavy Cook seems anxious at first Blue Key meeting (top right); Liz Gasser, above left, seems more relaxed in the stands supporting Gould; to her right John Shirley. . . SAVAGE! seems unscathed by orientation; at left Catalina enjoys some relaxation.

GOULD ACADEMY

FALL 1992 — SPRING 1993

Clockwise from right: Blake Dubin looking quite content; Shawn Morales being typical; the freshman class captured indoors; Molly Maloney and Erin Kailey hanging out. Graduation may seem a bit far off, but it may actually be closer than they think: time loves to play tricks on people.

FRESHMEN

This year's freshman class features plenty of energy and many diverse lifestyles. There is no telling what this group can add to Gould over the next few years, but it probably won't be dull. The class did win a trip to the beach this year, but many in the school community are not exactly clear in terms of exactly how that happened, not to mention why.

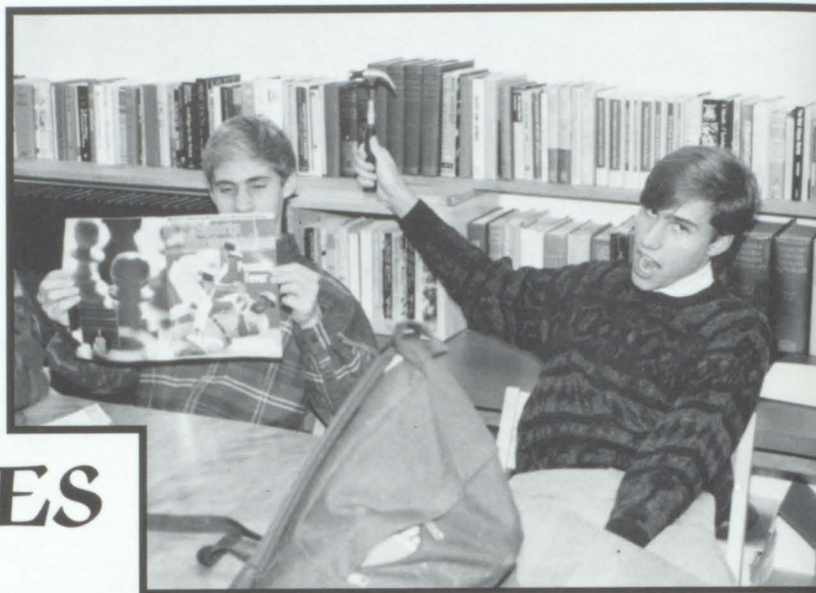

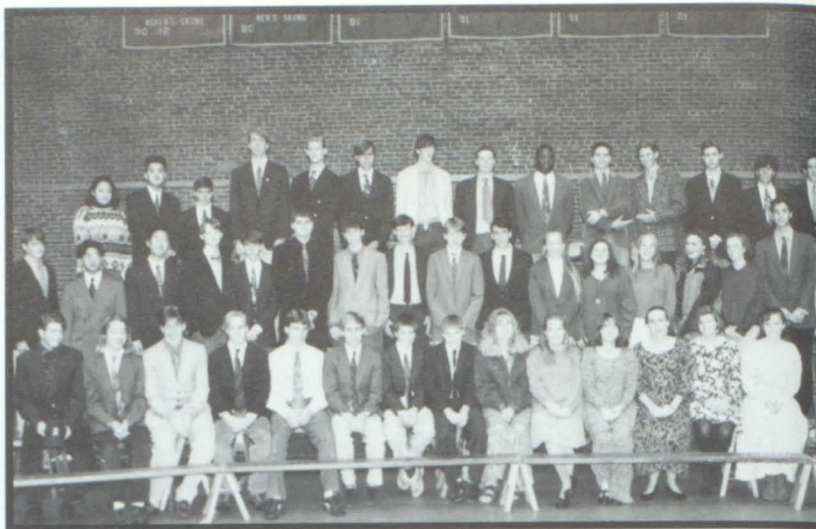

Perhaps someday when one of them becomes particularly famous, the group photo taken in front of Bingham may end up in a thick biography with a circle indicating the head of the special individual; many of the freshmen are already famous at Gould. In addition to the collected portrait Thea Murphy offers a contrast in proportion at left while below Bonnie Crocker and Anneliese Bass having fun after soccer practice.

SOPHOMORES

This year's sophomore class has added to its quite substantial reputation from last year and has added some new blood while spilling a minimum of old blood. Under the inspired leadership of Keavy Cook and her enforcer Toby Buckingham the class has been successful in pursuing valuable group experiences such as making videos at L.L. Bean's and going all the way to Boston to make trouble. Clockwise from above: Brian Callahan making an important business call; Marie Lowell; many of the usual suspects in an indoor group pose; Toby Buckingham and Dan Varisco at work on a project in their vocational training class; a sentimental gathering of sophomores on the steps leading to the rooms where success awaits.

Sophomore activities and accomplishments stretch in many different directions, and they certainly indicate the potential for this group to become an outstanding senior class in the not too distant future. Clockwise starting below: Doug Herberich just being himself, a job which would be extremely difficult for most people; Abby Wiggins avidly watching a soccer game; Rachel Slack keeping warm with hot liquids; Nedda Campbell and Jessica Trundy enjoying a break from study hall. With a proper advisor there is no telling how far this sophomore class can go.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class at Gould is unique. Keeping track of its accomplishments in some cases will be a job for the F.B.I. and other law enforcement agencies. This large group of multicultural youths will leave its mark on Gould, and its members have already been successful in many areas of school life. Clockwise from the top of the page: most of the class peacefully herded into the Field House; Kwok Wong with an expression more at home in a Manhattan line-up than a gathering of local moose-hunters at the Red Top; Eric Harlow, Pat Cote, Jesse Peck and Shinzo Honde getting psyched for an exciting assembly; finally future Chippendale Greg Matthews in his Holden lair.

"The World is mine: blue hill, still silver lake Broadfield, bright flower, the long white road; A gateless garden, and an open path.

My feet to follow, and my heart to hold. . ."

Edna St. Vincent Millay

Adrienne — I'll never forget. . . wherever you are.

Mr. T — You've taught me patience, dedication, and above all you've shown me just how great life can be! I'll miss you more than anything else at Gould. Thanks for a great start on life!

Amy — "Farewell, my beloved."

— Anne

Remember the good times.

Johnny "O" — "I love to laugh."

— Mary Poppins

KATHERINE ANN HUTCHINS

"Katie," "Hutch," "Kinky"

Lelo — No matter what or where it happened, remember it wasn't Timmy's fault!

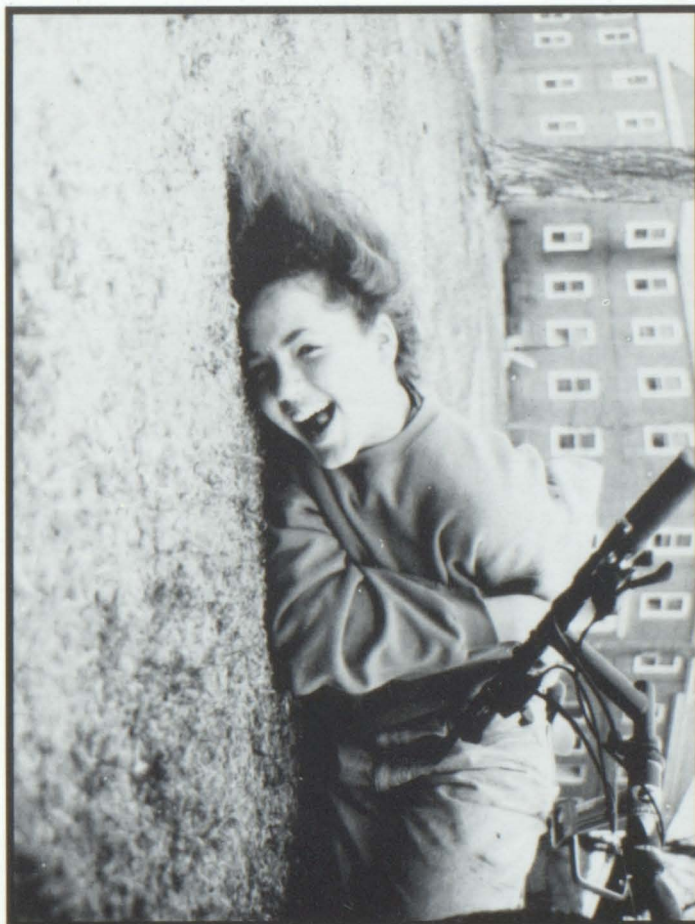

Mom and Dad — Thanks for giving me the chance to get out of Bethell!

"...everyone wants to kill me. Feed me drugs and poison. Put electrodes in my head and make me run on treadmills. Bisect, dissect and infect me. Bind, blind, maim and tame me. Are you folks crazy? You never invite me to your parties as if I'd really want to go anyhow. Have you ever asked me to the movies? How 'bout bowling? Have you ever seen a rat cry? I got tears and I have a heart and I got brains. And if you could just see past the fur I think that you would see that I'm a lot like you."

"Rattus Norvegicus" Black Flag

"...you are nothing but dust particles on any global map and the stars can't see you, but know you're there."

To Carrie and Nicole: Thanks for all the laughs and advice. I'll miss your smiling faces in the morning!

Page: Thanks for being there, you came at a time when I needed you most.

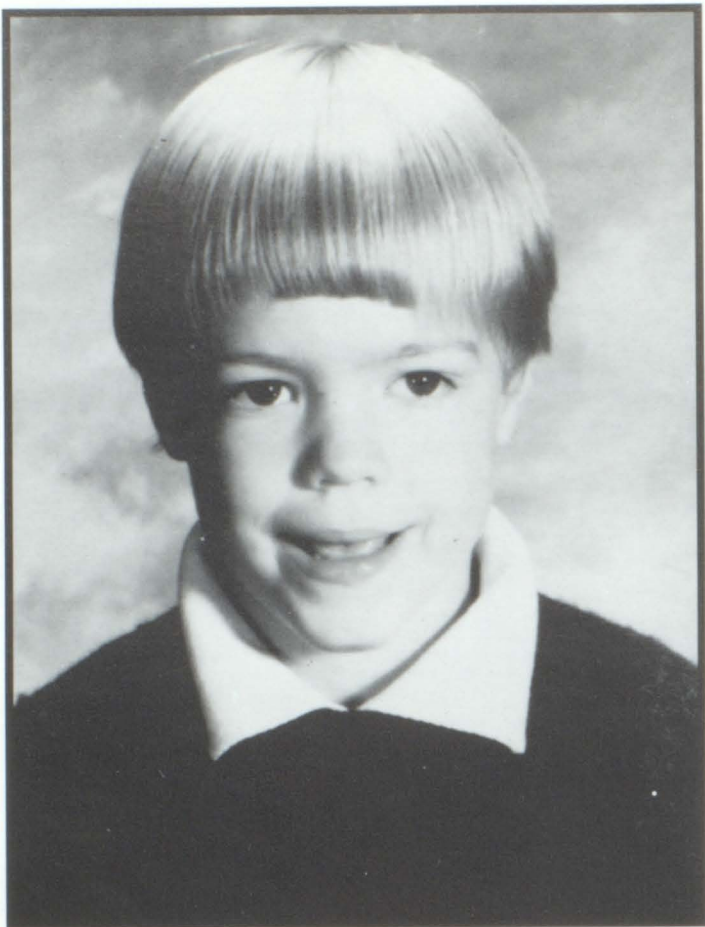

Erika, Gwen, Amy: Just knowing you has made my life that much brighter.

KATE CALLAHAN

DARCIE: "A memory stays forever in your mind, a picture sometimes fades, but our friendship is an everlasting thought that will never slip away." A friend like you, there won't be another. NICOLE: Remember, soda water, Perrier and feline deodorizer. By the way I like my carpet better white. Someday I'll show you what a porcupine looks like. I'll miss you, we had a lot of good times. It's "More than a feeling" Keep turning cartwheels, we're all watching. BRIAN: "No matter how far away I am I'll always be near." I'll miss you! Is that too mushy? CAITLIN: "There was a definite process in which one made people into friends, and it involved talking to them and listening to them for hours at a time." — Rebecca West. Thanks for listening. I'll miss you. CARRIE: Thanks for everything. You've been a great friend. "PURPLE" ADRIAN: There are so many words to be said and no words to say them with. MOM, LEE & DAD: Sometimes there is a person who takes time enough to listen, someone who cares about us even when we lose, and who loves us even when we're wrong. I thank you for all those times you understood." — Flavia "So many faces in and out of my life. Some will last, some will just be here and there. Life is a series of hellos and goodbyes, I'm afraid it's time for goodbye again" — Billy Joel

JONATHAN BURRILL

Dr.O: Thanks for all your knowledge and support. I'll be back someday so keep the fridge full.

Mom and Dad: Five years in high school is too long. Thanks for everything.

Mr Hill: I was just one of the many fortunate people to have met you and have you as my English teacher. Carpe Diem. May you rest in peace.

P.F.: What would Thomas and Judy think about that?

From a cold Fall night at Sunday River to the Quebec trip it's been a fast four years. Thanks to everyone who made this an enjoyable ride. And remember kids if it's been a bad day and the sun hasn't peeked through the clouds in weeks, just pull the shade, fluff up the pillow and take a nap.

OMAR ROBINSON

It's been real. After three years here I've been able to learn things and new ideas whether they were from teachers, students, on the playing field, or off the playing field. I have a few people to thank for being here and helping me. First I want to thank my parents, Kiki, Bakari, and Shane for allowing me to be able to come here and for their efforts in pushing me forward in life. I love you all. MRS. OWEN, MR. WIGHT, MR. NEWELL: A special thanks to you for helping me in every way possible. It may not look like it affected me but believe me it did. Thanks a lot. JASON: Well, the time has come boss, I'm sure we'll hear of and see each other enough, so I will check you later. KORRIE & DAVE: You better remember me when you come out with your first music video. Don't give up, keep trying and keep in touch. DAVE: don't let those girls worry you. NICOLE H.: Thanks for trying to set me up but don't worry I'll be fine. Love. JOSH & FAMILY: Thanks for allowing me to get away from school and go skiing. Thanks for everthing. KEE-LING: Practice on your ping pong and pool. Tell your uncle I'll take him any day (Big Joke). SHAWN: Good luck with your next proctor he's not going to be easy on you. Learn to control that MOUTH of yours. NOW BA, CHECK YOUR GUYS LATER.

Later to the Gould Country Club!

Thanks for the two year vacation plan. I'm off to bigger and better things.

Remember- stay Irie, you'll live better!

CHAE-KYUNG JUNG

TAKE WHAT COMES. Don't expect perfection for you'll never find it here. This is earth, not heaven. So with charity and cheer.

— TAKE WHAT COMES. The good, the bad; don't start whimpering when you're disappointed with a person or a thing. Do not worship idols and complain when you have found feet of clay beneath the robes in which you've wrapped them. Everyone is human. Do not be too critical when someone fails. Remember that you, too, are fallible. Keep your idols in your heart. But don't lose faith when things go wrong. Just let the storm blow by. Do not ask too much of life or reach beyond your range. Accept and learn to live content with what you cannot change.

Asako-You're my best friend, I'll miss you. I hope you'll have a successful life. I love you. How's your school?

Chae — You always surprise me. What's next? Remember there is always another Pizza Hut down the road. Do your eyes hurt? Nancy and Jess — Monkeys are superior to men in this: When a monkey looks into a mirror, he sees a monkey. — CHAZAL
Nancy — Someday someone will tell the truth about Miss Goody Two Shoes. Jess — You could always make me laugh. Thanks you guys! Mom — Thanks for always being on my side! I love you! To the rest of my family — You are definitely one of a kind. M.S. — I am the owner of my shoulders, and tenant of my hips. — Chazal

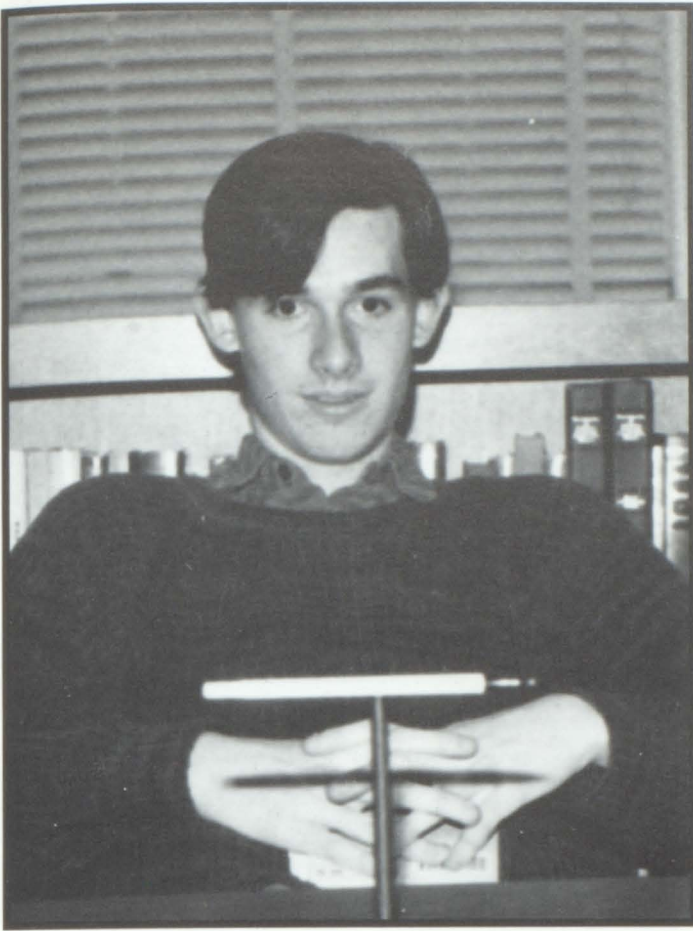

Kim — Booberies and Toyboxes. Look where it got us? Keny — Where do we go from here. Turn right at the funeral home, not straight! Mrs.Owen — Thank-you. You taught me so much, and always gave me a chance. Dr.O. — Watch out for great worms and aliens. Madame — Thank-you for always believing in me.

JOHN MARTINSEN

"That night Lee dreamed he was in a penal colony. All around him were high, bare mountains. He lived in a boardinghouse that was never warm. He went out for a walk. As he stepped off the street corner onto the dirty cobblestone street, the cold mountain wind hit him. He tightened the belt of his leather jacket and felt the chill of final despair."

To all you Gouldies of the future: Beware, there ARE no fish.

The ocean doesn't want me today, but I'll be back tomorrow to play, and the stranglers will take me down deep in their brine, mischievous braingles in their endless blue wine, I'll open my head and let out all of my time, Oh I'd love to go drowning, and to stay and to stay but the ocean doesn't want me today, I'll go in up to here, it can't possibly hurt, all they will find is my beer and my shirt, there's a rip tide a-raging and the life guard's away, but the ocean doesn't want me today. -Tom Waits

BRANDON GRAY

J.P, A.W, J.B, C.A,-It just wasn't the same without you guys these last two years. All those times we had together, it was a blast, I'll never forget them. N.P-Late nights, our closet, snow hikes, the trash can. S.P-The tree, the bridge, bad karma, tube Carrie- Well, I'm glad I haven't let these two years go by without getting to know you. Remember the good times we had together at your house, because I always will. I'll always be there for you, if you need someone to talk to. I love ya darling! Fun Hog-Spitter, Nintendo, you're busted, one more year, think you can make it.

Jog, C.A, N.H, K.C, K.H,-You're all great, don't change. Stay in touch. Mom and Dad-Thanks for being there for me, you helped me through some tough times. I'll never forget it. I love you both! Chase and Regan-Hang in there you two, you'll make it! Tripp-Thanks for being there for me when I needed someone to talk to. You're the best brother, and the best friend I'll ever have, I love you. I came, I saw, I did, I didn't do, I graduate (finally...) knowing I'm leaving part of me behind. Bad girls of Gehring — Jam, Mika, Gwen, Amber, Alex and Maud — who'd of thought I'd be the last one left? '91-'92: N. Conway, (shopping?)excursions, Bethel Inn Pool, Soph. 4 Point in Swampscott, haircolors that changed with mood swings, freak runaway shopping cart accidents, Reggae in Vortex, Auburn police horror stories (nail polish?), E.B.S., C.P.S., crazie late nite talks, Best friends. . .love U. Maeve, Amy, Kendra, Abbie, Leah, Rachel & Sue: U can all make it. I did. '92-'93: the circle apartments, nic fits, vents, thrift stores, chemically induced bonding — they kept us on our toes this year — 2 all my partners in crime: Don't get caught, pass the (foot?), wishing U all Love Success Delirium thru the years. Juliet-munchies pass, headaches fade, blood-shot eyes clear, but the memories last 4eva. Katie-U were there 4 my 2 most miserable senior experiences (NTL & Piano) thanx 4 being my friend. Carrie & Lelo — U 2 know me better than anyone here. and still managed 2 live with me 4 a whole yr., you've both taught me so much, and were always there 4 me, thanx. Townie — we had some "real good Karma" moments. Mom/Dad — U've gone above and beyond the call of parenthood. Thank U 4 the support, faith and opportunity of a lifetime. Jon — I can't believe how fast we've grown up — you've matured into an intelligent, athletic, handsome and caring man whom I'm proud 2 call my brother. Heather — My therapist, U have given me more than advice, support, love, & a shoulder 2 cry on, U R my best friend, an immeasurable gift.

TYSSEN BUTLER

Some sports, such as croquet, pool, badminton, and touch football, are actually a lot of fun to play. Unfortunately, playing sports for fun is quite out of fashion at the moment. Perhaps this is because modern people are doing so many other things — divorcing, developing drug habits, screwing up their children — for fun. In order to make fun sports socially acceptable, they must be played in deadly earnest and practiced in secret and argued over loudly.

-P.J. O'Rourke

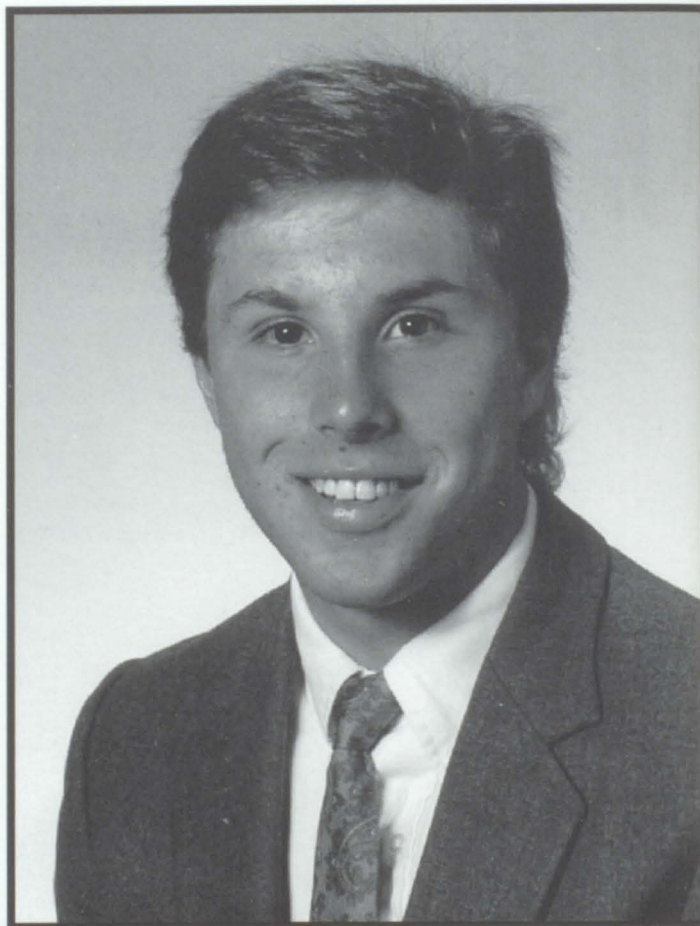

Again sight clears. I am slick with blood. I discover I no longer feel pain. Animals gather around me, enemies of old, to watch me die. I give them what I hope will appear a sheepish smile. My heart booms terror. Will the last of my life slide out if I let out breath? They watch with mindless, indifferent eyes, as calm and midnight black as the chasm below me.

Is it joy I feel?

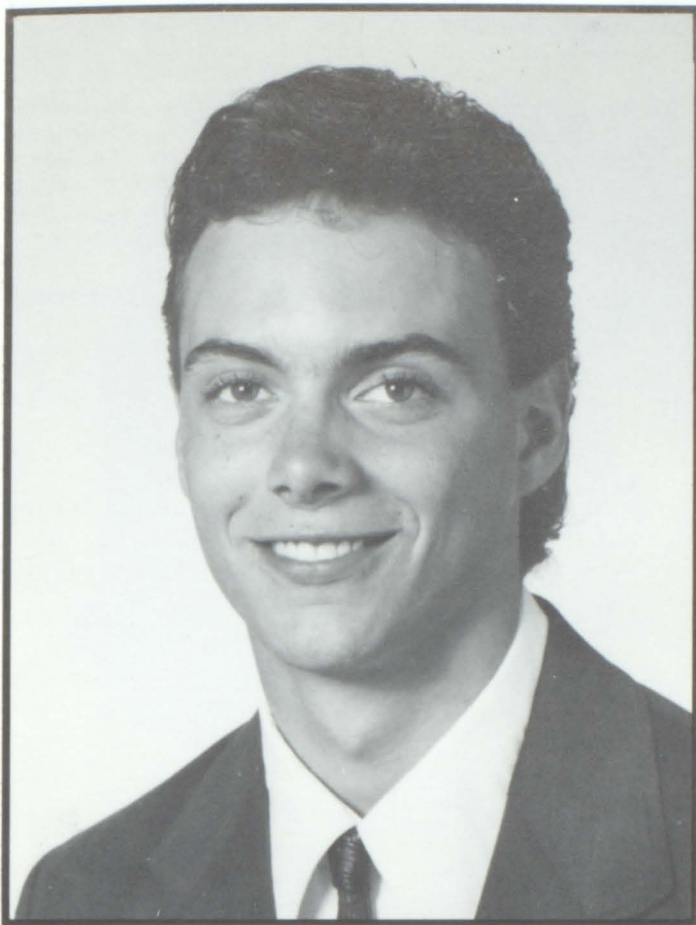

They watch on, evil, incredibly stupid, enjoying my destruction.

"Poor Grendel's had an accident," I whisper. "So may you all."

Aunt Catherine & Uncle Dick: Thank you for everything that you have done, I'll never be able to thank you enough.

Mom, Dad, Linda, Paul, etc: Thank you for everything. I couldn't have made it without your love and support.

"It takes a great deal of pencil to say I love you." -Winnie the Pooh

Rose & Al, my other family: Thanks for all the fun times.

To the rest of my friends at Gould Academy that I haven't mentioned, thanks for everything, I'll miss you.

HOLLY WALEGA

Bekka: Who would have thought after all these years we would become friends. Thanks for all the great memories- camping- the butchers.... But never again will I let you use my pillow! Friends til the end- Luv ya Cookie!

How long have we been best friends- Forever-

How long will we be best friends- Forever-

Then that's all that matters!

Amy: Pee at every stop, but not if you're on the highway.

Erika: Thanks for being there when I needed someone to talk to!

Katrina: We've been through so much! I'll always remember the good times we had together. Luv ya!

Linc: Hey, Itchy! Where's the closest Chinese Restaurant? You're a great friend!

Corky & Amanda: Good luck with your next three years.

Mr. Cousins: Wow! In the four years I only failed your class once! Take care of MY jeep! Thank you for always making me laugh!

Mrs. Gardner: Thanks for four great years of Lacrosse! Good Luck!

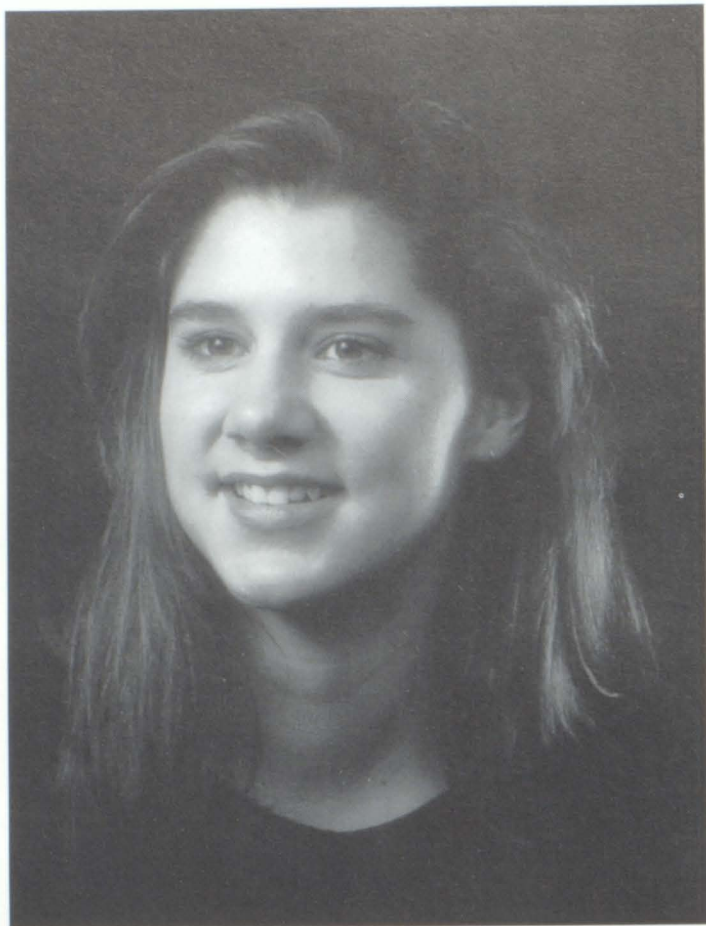

Lily: Faithful members of the B.O.L.A. Watch out for Shaker-Arabs, cling on's and things that go cock-a-doodle in the night, but most of all "BIG BERTHA!" she'll get you everytime.

Mom & Al: Thank you for the many opportunities! I couldn't have done it with out you both! Love you guys with all my heart!

Jason: I guess all those lectures paid off because I made it in one piece. Thanks for being there for me. You mean more to me than I can say. Love you!

CARRIE-Thanks for giving me a "second chance", you're a wonderful friend. Halloween '92 was crazy, I'll remember it forever.

KATE- Thank you for all the talks and all the support. Thanks for a great friendship. I'll miss you.

NICOLE- Your smile always brightened up my day. Thank you for all the hugs. I'll miss you.

HOLLY-Thank you for the many talks and all the laughs.

AMY-"Is that noise in my head bothering you?" I'll be sure to get help the next time I use a calling card. . .Egypt?! Thank you for the wonderful friendship and all the support.

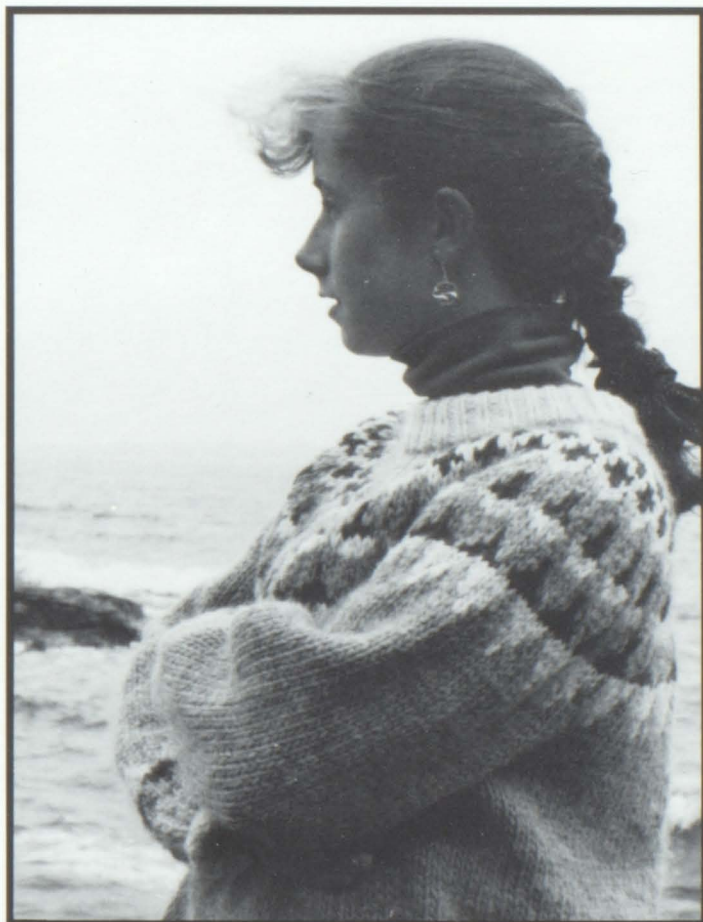

BEKKA-"Okay Okay Beeker!" "How many times do I have to tell you; Everything works out for the best."

MOM & DAD- I can't thank you enough for all your support and always helping me achieve my goals. I couldn't have made it without you.

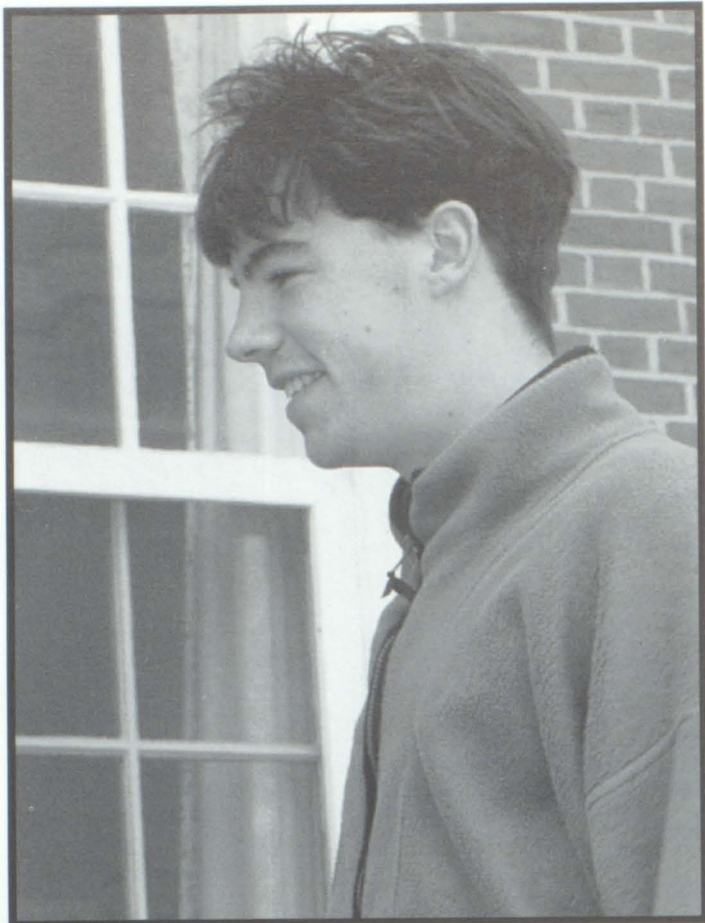

AMANDA- You'll never know just how much it meant to me to grow up with you. I've always admired your spunk. "It takes a great deal of pencil to say I love you." Good luck at G.A. next year.

LINC- " Hey,Hey,Hey,don't try to make up with me." Remember all the wonderful times we've shared together, and smile, because you know it's too much to put into words. I love you. . .MORE!

Mr.DAVIS- A great teacher never tries to teach, he only invites you to stand beside him and experience it for yourself. Thank you for sharing not only all your knowledge but your whole self with me. I admire your spirit.

BILL BECKWITH

My memories will always be crazy ones of this first and last year at Gould. Especially hanging out with Shirley, Linc and everyone in Holden, the girls who were kind enough to my head to just be friends, the snowboard posse', and everyone on that camping trip where it rained and snowed, but didn't stop us from playing baseball.

To Mom & Dad- Thank you for your support through these seemingly endless, but exciting High School years, especially this last one. I will never forget what you've done for me.

Christian, Amy & Natala- Thank you for your watchful eye and a view of the world which I wouldn't have gotten from any one else.

Abe- I was influenced by your kindness and will never forget you. To the Medomak crew, Milt, R.B., C.S., may our paths cross again. Good luck, goodbye.

Carrie-Thumper- Thanks for listening to my two years of complaints. You are one of the best people that I know. I love you.

Why not think about the times to come
And not about the things you've done
If your life was bad to you,
Just think what tomorrow will do.

-Fleetwood Mac

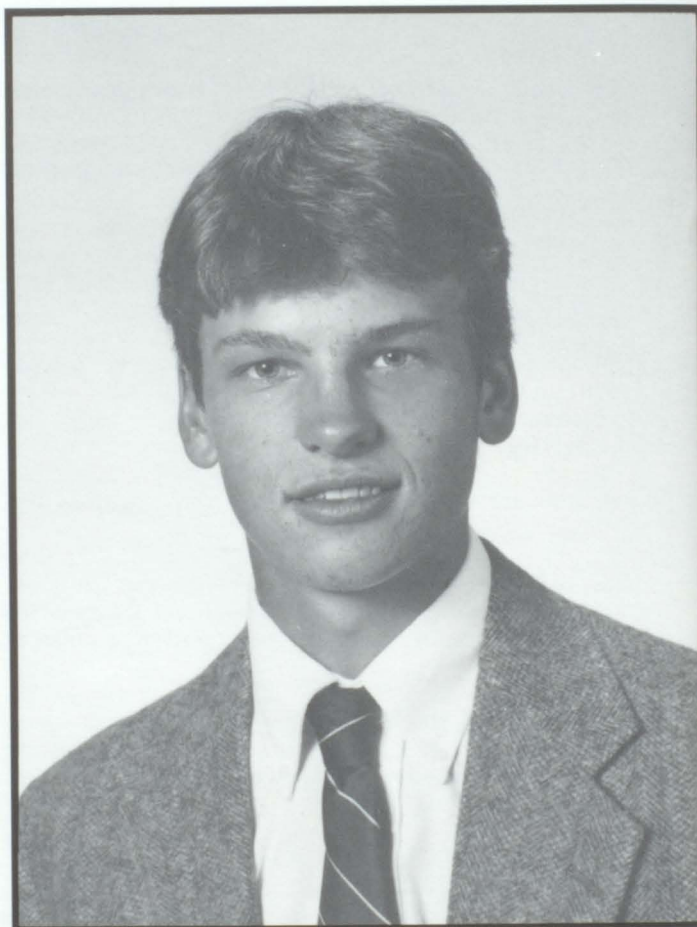

Billy- I like the apple in my bag!

Shirley-Shirldog-King Sodom- I'll always remember the smelliest room and the virgin who slept in it.

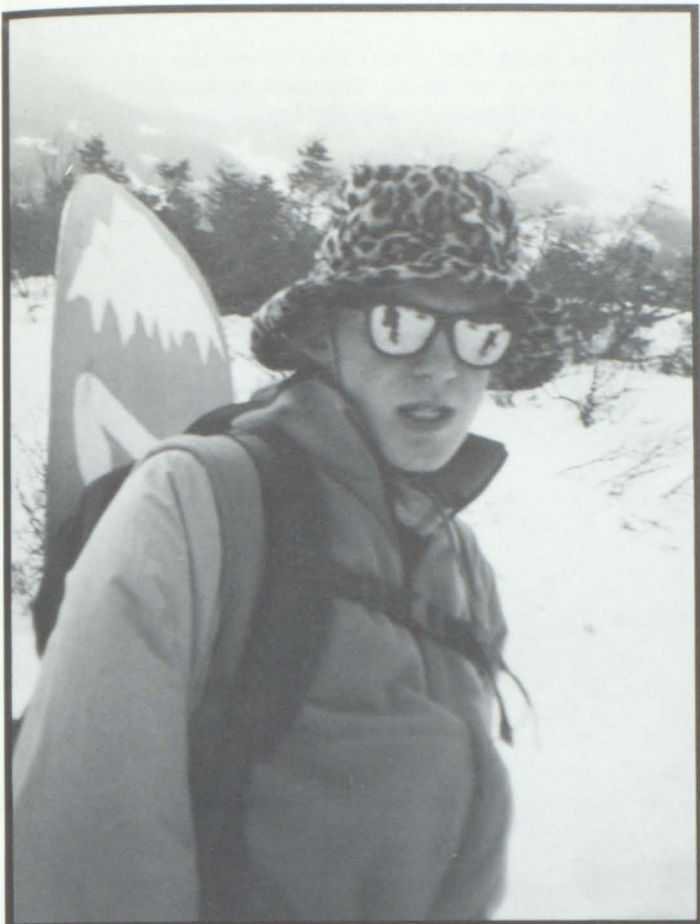

Mom, Mark, and Liz- Thank you guys for always being there! I can't even begin to thank you for all you've done. I couldn't have done it without you! I love you.

Leslie and Pete- Thanks for the weekends and all of your advice. I love you guys!

Good Luck and Goodbye.

PEACE

CARLOTA MARTINEZ

Os doy gracias mama y papa por esta gran oportunidad que no todo el mundo tiene, y os quiero decir aunque con palabras no se pueda expresar tan bien como quisiera que estoy muy orgullosa de vosotros.

Even though my English wasn't perfect I would like to thank everyone for being patient and helping me.

Mr. Alford & Heather: I am never going to forget my first time skiing with one sky- gracias.

Mr. Gardner: Thank you for making me laugh. "Look how thin I am." (I lose 3 calories every time I laugh.)

Heather, Camino y La Dominicana: I am never going to forget how much fun we had together. Camino remember that (No eres del corte Ingles)

Camino, Gemma & Patricia: I miss you and always remember the good times we had together, especially the summer of '92.

And for everyone else I am going to miss you, and I hope you never, never forget my smile.

CATALINA MELGAR

Open yourselves to love, you have to live life to the fullest! Give yourselves freedom to try new things without being afraid of making mistakes. In conclusion laugh and have a good time, and be honest at least with yourselves.

Dance!!!

HEATHER GARDNER

Mom: You have always given me room to make my own decisions, but if I ever fell down you were there to pick me up. I love you. Dad: I love you because you always want the best for me, and you'll bend over backwards to help me. Most of all I'll always love you because you'll always love me. Normie: A memory stays forever in your mind, a picture sometimes fades, but our friendship is an everlasting thought that will never slip away. I love you. Mr. Davis: What nobler employment, or more valuable to the state, than that of a man who instructs the rising generation? -Cicero. Mr. Newell: The final test of a leader is that he leaves behind him in other men the conviction and the will to carry on. -Walter Lippmann. Camino: There's a special sense of comfort and security when friends have been together as long as we have. I know that I can always be myself around you because you know me so well. You know my thoughts and understand my feelings, sometimes better than I do because you know where I've been. I hope you know how much it means to me to know I have a forever friend like you.

"Take What Comes"

Don't expect perfection for you'll never find it here. This is the Earth not Heaven. So with charity and cheer — Take what comes. The Good. The bad. And don't start whimpering when you're disappointed with a person or thing. Do not worship idols and complain when you have found feet of clay beneath the robes in which you wrapped them. Everyone is human. Do not be critical when someone fails. Remember that you, too, are fallible. Keep your ideals in your heart and set your standards high. Don't lose faith when things go wrong. Just let the storm blow by. Do not ask too much of life or reach beyond your range. Accept and learn to live content with what you cannot change.

To all who listened to me and made me laugh: thanks!

CAMINO SAEZ

Mama y Papa- Gracias por haberme dado la oportunidad de vivir esta experiencia tan enriquecedora. Gracias tambien por haberme dado incondicionalmente todo el soporte y amor que he necesitado este tiempo que me pasado tan lejos de casa. Os quiero!

Juan- Thank you for being the best brother I could ever have. You were right wanting to come to America to do your senior year, but I guess you don't have as much "nivelin" as I do. See you in Madrid next year.

Carlota- not that many close friends have the opportunity to share this experience together. Thank you for being here with me. (Maruja!)

Ianna- Thank you for inviting me to the Dominican Republic during spring break. I will never forget all the good friends I made there. I hope we will keep in touch and that some day you will become famous. (Loca!!)

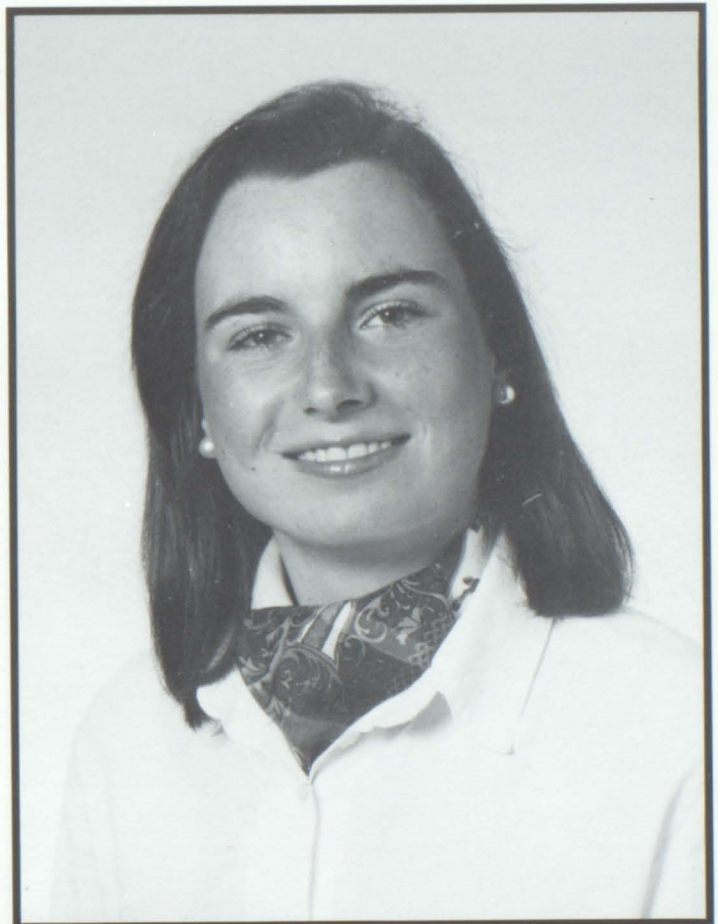

Heather- Even if we got lost in Washington our friendship and days we've been together will never be lost in my mind. This year has been great and full of memories.

Mrs. Todd and Mrs. Siegel- Thank you for making our "breaks" more fun.

Mr. Gardner- Thank you for being so awesome.

NTL- "Oops you made a mistake. . ."

To all my friends that I'm going to leave behind, thanks for the memorable experiences, laughs and smiles. Good luck on the journey ahead.

JASON KNIGHT

Regis: A picture is worth a thousand words! You are a friend that is as dear to me as any I have ever had. Do your best in D.C. and thank you for everything.

Guillaume: Your good sense of humor and your kind heart are your best qualities. Thank you for sharing them with me. I know we will see more of each other as we both head for New York next fall. Keep an open mind in the future!

Fresh: Beauty is only skin deep, but STYLE is to the bone! Good luck at Wesleyan (West Virginia, that is!). If all goes well, you might learn to sing! You are the man, Jim.

P+J: What are parents for? You've heard me say it more times than I can remember, but this time I truly mean it. . .thank you.

Thank you, Mrs. Owen and Madame Ouwinga. You are the kind of teachers I had in mind when I decided to go to boarding school.

To my friends at home. . .there is very little competition!

REGIS de RAMEL

Jason: Hey, Baby, give me a kiss!! Don't forget all the clams in the bathroom, the Forum, and Paris on the Rue Pigalle and the Parisian culture. Remember the dancers up in Quebec? Is that phone ringing?

Jimmy: Don't forget to go protected.

Gregg: I don't want to see you at the top of a bell tower at the U.S.N.A.

Guillaume: Congratulations, you made it through all four years and you seem all right. Have fun at Hobart, I'll miss you.

Eddie: Be good to my cousin next year, watch him. X-C Running will be all yours, baby!

All the girls who spent time in my room, you know who you are. Thanks for the dancing lessons.

Thanks- Mr. Rackliffe for being a great advisor. Madame Ow- inga, you will always be the best French teacher. Bon Gardner for all the Satire, Coach Graham for two fun lacrosse seasons, and Mr. Taylor for the expert coaching.

Thanks, Mom, for everything you've put up with and all you've done for me.

GUILLAUME de RAMEL

"So comes snow after fire, and even dragons have their ending!" said Bilbo, and he turned his back on his adventure. The Tookish part was getting very tired, and the Baggins was daily getting stronger. "I wish now only to be in my own arm-chair!" he said.

-J.R.R. Tolkien

To all at Gould who made the adventure better: Thanks for being there and being good friends and guides. Watch out for dragons!

I always wanted to be a bachelor when I grew up. My friends may have had fantasies about raking the yard, seeing their loved ones in pin curlers and cleaning the garage on Sundays, but not me. I saw myself at thirty-eight lounging around a penthouse in a brocade smoking jacket. Vivaldi would be playing on the stereo. I'd sip brandy from a snifter the size of a fish tank and leaf through an address book full of R-rated phone numbers.

-P.J. O'Rourke

"Come back to see the rest of that Dirty Harry classic anytime; if you get your own laser disc player, I'll leave it to you in my will — by the way, you are a lot nicer than Callahan. Good luck!"

-B.T.C.G.

Regis: Thanks for being a great brother and thanks for all the girls who got the wrong room.

Mom: Special thanks for all the support!

GREGG MICHAEL HARRINGTON

"He who will not risk cannot win."

-John Paul Jones

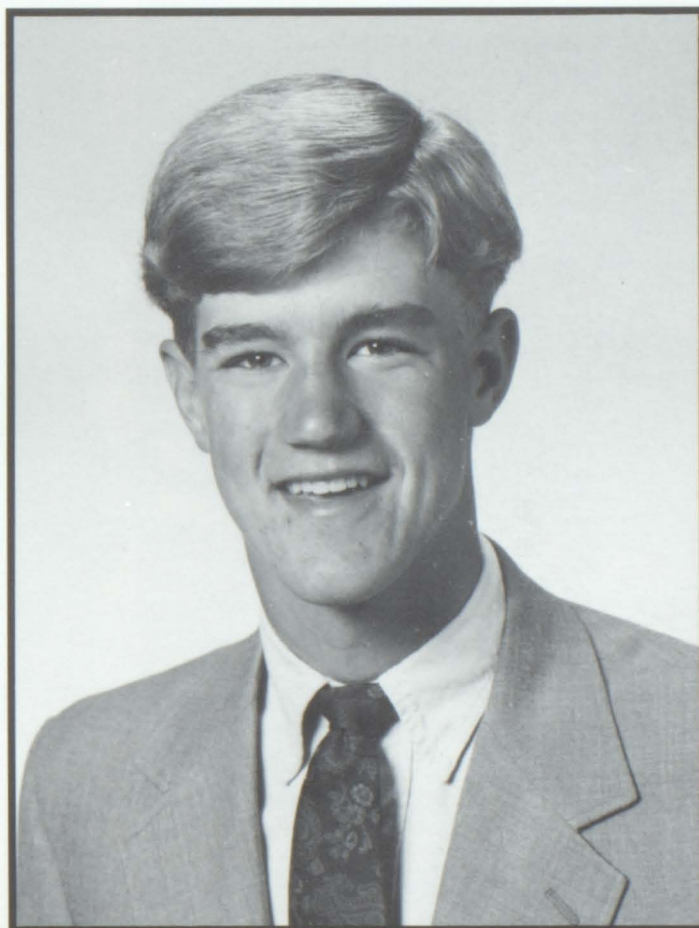

Ambition- To serve my country while having a fulfilling and successful career and more importantly to have loving and caring family and friends.

Memories- KMW always- I.T.Y! M.H.S. and Graduation #1, Orientation Trip, NTL, Good friends- Mac, Hotop, Pat, Jon, Jay, Regis, Guillaume, the Trio(Abby, Emilie, Linda), Catalina and Katie; U2 Concerts- Partying with the old boys- "Hey, Baby!", "It's Spicy", "I'm a wall..." Soccer, Hoops, Baseball- visiting the N.C. backwoods- celebrating my appointment.

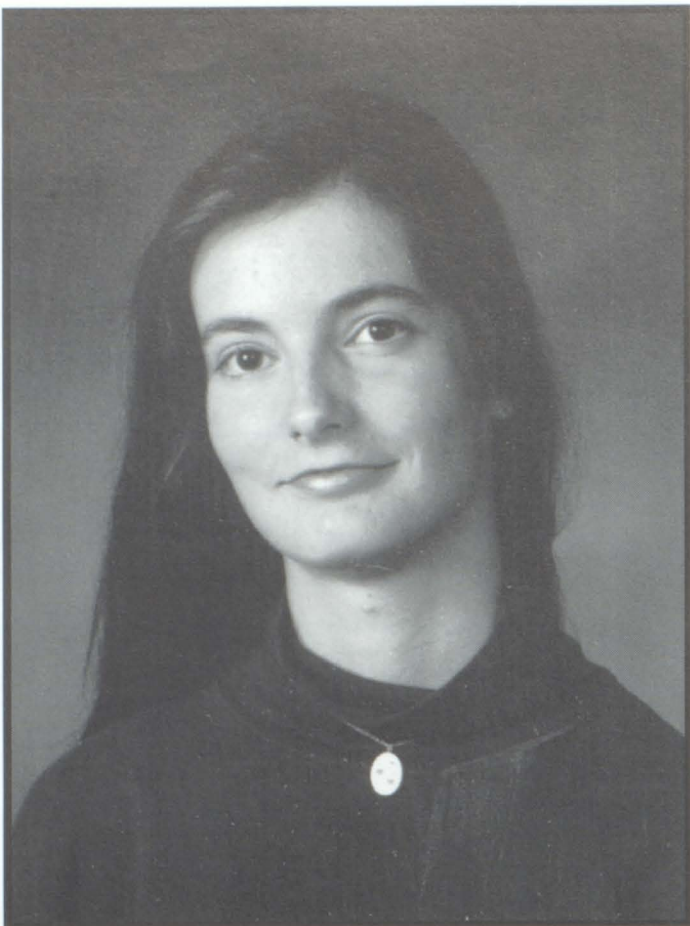

Mr. Newell & Mr. Parzen- Thanks for making this year enjoyable and for the help you've given me.

Mac- "Semper Fidelis!" The North Won! Remember that!

Family- Thanks for all of the love and support. Go Navy!

JILL KATHLEEN NOWAK

I see my rise and fall and then I rise again — They plan for me to sprout — They watch me for a bud — They let my bud burst out — They see the blossom glowing in the warm sun — But something in me clouds the sun - the rain refuses to pour down — Somehow I cannot learn to live — Somewhere inside the middle of my bright flower a little aphid munches — munches out the foundation of my soul — They witness my decline — Each petal slowly fades and little holes appear — They stand by helpless — Trying to peer into my core - Someone sees it outright — A bug they cry — A bug - It's eating out the heart of this poor flower — They sprinkle me with powder meant to uproot bugs — They watch me without planning — All they can do is hope - That flower withers away — A new bud takes its place - They pour the water on me — They make sure there is light — Soon a flower grows forth with its own strength to repel aphids.

Mrs. Pooley- Our one year has been worth sitting five rows from the front in assembly.

Mrs. Hill- I love you. You have helped me through so much and now I am not as afraid.

Mouse, Hoople Hop, Beig & Doozle- I respect and love all of you even though it may not seem that way.

Amy Todd & Molly Gartrell- You've always been there when I needed a friend. "So go your way and I'll go mine — no fear you'll miss the road."-Emily Dickinson

FOUR YEAR SENIORS

It's been a long, strange ride, boys and girls!

Well, it's been quite a four years for the vets who have made it. Remember that long-ago year when there was a Mountain Day and a Four Point Adventure with Uncle Bon called "Aspirations" — you have gone through more masks since then, but Congratulations!

DORMITORY LIFE

BROWN

Brown House survived another transitional year with Mrs. Johnson trying to hold down the fort while an exciting mix of personalities and styles resided on the other side of the magic door. The Brown House inmates pictured at left during a short break from long hours of homework consisted of (from left to right) Asako Okada, Meredith DuPuy, Proctor Chae Kyung Jung, Ericka Stevens, Brandy Haught, and Niccole Welshimer. The year in Brown was at times exciting and on the whole pretty darn satisfactory.

HALL

Hall House was a brand new dorm this year, not a new house but a new dorm. Miss Wellehan did her best to keep things in tune with harmony and give the Hall a homey feeling often hard to capture in larger living units. Residents experimented with their group study room where they posed for the picture at left (from the staircase over to the left): Sarah Burgess, Miss Wellehan, Abigail Howe, Rebecca Whitely, Amber MacKenzie, and Jessica LeMay. The first year of Hall House was on balance quite successful.

Life in a small dorm is quite different from life in a large residential unit. Some think small is better while others find large to be more exciting and potentially rewarding albeit more hazardous as well. Gould offers both kinds of residential option and proves that living at work can be quite a different experience. There is certainly much to be learned and appreciated outside the classroom at Gould.

GEHRING

Gehring was an exciting place to live this year. Miss Head's last year heading the dorm was not a quiet or simple affair. Lots of different priorities and lifestyles clashed in the night, not to mention day-time. As in life the windows in Gehring come in different sizes; one in particular seemed to offer opportunity. Above is a panoramic view of most of the Gehring crew while to the left is a group of ladies in motion at a notorious skate ranch; below them some local beauties prepare for a downstairs affair; and finally directly below is a rare sight in Gehring. Those who experienced Gehring this year took away memories which should last a very long time.

DAVIDSON HALL

Davidson Hall is Gould's largest dormitory and as well certainly its most noteworthy from a perspective in terms of architecture. This year the overall look and feel of the building changed with the infusion of new blood from Mr. Alford and no beard from Mr. Penczer. The horde assembled in the top half of this page hints at the incredibly rich multi-cultural diversity which bloomed within the brick confines of Davidson. Proctors and most of the other residents had a truly busy year.

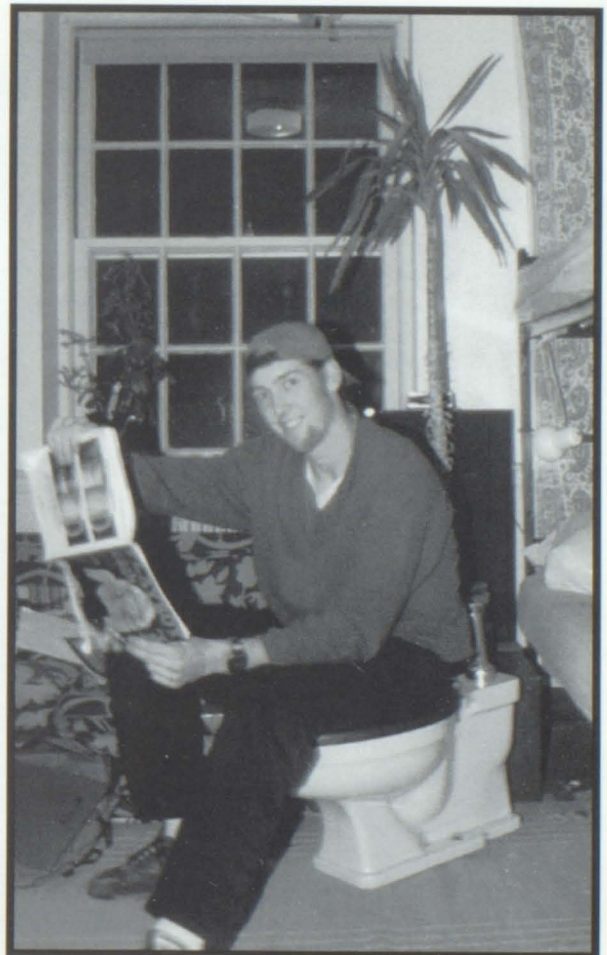

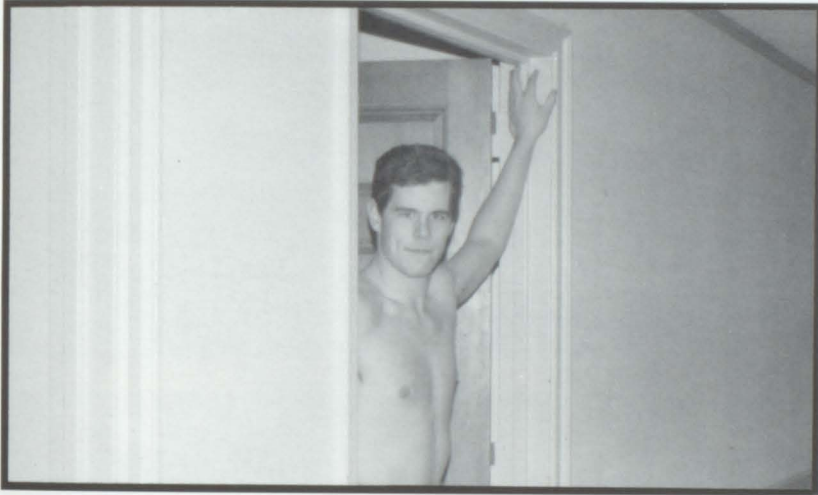

Davidson people showed a lot of spirit as well as muscle during this year's winter carnival; seen at right is the highly sophisticated tug of war squad which showed carnival fans what concentrated and well orchestrated teamwork can do.

HOLDEN

Holden had a very exciting dormitory year with plenty of ups, downs, surprises — some surprises were arrivals, some departures. To call the denizens of Holden colorful would be gross understatement; so would calling the second floor residents certifiable. Holden gets many visitors and both gains and suffers in the process. Some Holden dwellers stayed up so late studying that they imagined they were visited by real people rather than ghostly spirits. Pictured on this page in addition to the group exercise are three images of some of Holden's many different moods and states of conscious (one image is noteworthy for its absence of consciousness, certainly brought about by a conscious effort to miss some regulated activities in a nearby building). Holden survivors had good reason to be proud as they loaded their goods into vehicles or dumpsters at year's end.

DAY STUDENTS

Day Students are an important resource at Gould Academy and help bridge valuable communication between the school and the local community; our commuter students are significant by their numbers and by their accomplishments. Clockwise from right are Erika Christie and Meredith Otten in a good example of transportation, Kendra Hutchins and Leah Bonnema, and Holly Walega in meditation.

Sports

Men's Varsity Soccer

Success greeted new coach Micah Parzen and his Varsity booters this fall as they finished an exciting season by winning their league with an 8-1-1 record and a second place victory in the MAISAD tournament. The team avenged its only league loss to CVA with a big home game win against them later in the season. Josh Otten, Jason Knight, Omar Robinson, Gregg Harrington, and Brandon Gray all made the All-Conference team while Omar won the MVP award for the league. Nate Parker won the most improved award; Gregg Harrington won the sportsmanship award and had a great year in goal. The team deserves to be proud of its 9-4-2 overall record.

Men's J.V. Soccer

Repeating as MAISAD J.V. Champions, this team under the inspired and benign leadership of Coach Hutchins had a great year with an overall record of 7-2-1. Players used practices wisely and improved skills and teamwork throughout the season. Co-captains Richard Dowdeswell and Nathan Wight did a fine job; Richard won the J.V. Award. Plenty of spirit both on the field and on the sidelines helped gain maximum results from team potential. The team enjoyed its work and its success; it is reasonable to assume that some of its talent will help earn success for the varsity team next fall. And next year's J.V. squad will be the one all the other teams will try to deny a third straight MAISAD tournament victory.

Women's Varsity Soccer

Gould's Varsity Women's Soccer Team had a great season with a fine 10-3 overall record and a wonderful season finale victory as the winners of the MAISAD tournament on our home turf. Giving the team power were leading scorers Kate Callahan, Linda Roberts, and Meredith Otten while All-Star honors went to Kate Callahan, Po Yates, and Melinda Johansen. Spirited leadership from captains Darcie Burnell and Amy Todd also helped make the season a satisfying one for Miss Head's dedicated booters. The Most Improved Player Award went to M.J. Reed who did a great job in goal.

Women's J.V. Soccer

A solid season was fashioned by this year's junior varsity squad under the coaching leadership of Gould alum Chrissy McCarthy. The team showed plenty of spirit and enthusiasm both on and off the field en route to an overall 5-3-1 record. Two captains, Keavy Cook and Kendra Hutchinson, did an excellent job with Kendra also kicking in leading scorer honors; other outstanding players on the team included Heather Gardner, Maeve Lugris, and Sigrid Stanley. The season was a good one because it was successful and because people had fun achieving that success.

Cross-Country

Cross-Country is a strong program at Gould even though it is a demanding sport which requires preparation even before the season starts in terms of summer base training. The varsity men had a great season and finished undefeated, 6-0, with the MAISAD championship title. The Gould women were not as fortunate as the men, largely because there were not enough women on the team. Pat Cote, Guillaume de Ramel, Regis de Ramel, Jon Edwards, Sam Langlois, and John Stanley won all-star honors. There was lots of spirit and new blood on the J.V. team which came through with a great win at the championships. Awards for sportsmanship went to John Stanley and Sam Langlois; most improved honors went to Erik Grimness and Hillary Harrison. This year's runners made all the work and effort pay off in a rewarding season.

Varsity Golf

Teering off into a fall day at the Bethel Inn course is not such a bad way to spend time, and this year's group of Gould golfers enjoyed the good times on the course even if the overall record did not reflect some of their achievements as a team and as individuals. Matt O'Meara, playing at number one, won leading scorer honors; other solid performers were Kevin Ege at the number two spot and Glen Jamieson at number three. Gregg Gnecco won the most improved player award at season's end; Kevin Ege won the award for sportsmanship. Coach Dohrmann enjoyed the season and was able to work on his game while helping team members sharpen their skills. Gould's golfers did have a good season, if not a winning season it was still a season with no losers.

Varsity Field Hockey

Field Hockey after a truly outstanding season last year had to settle for a more modest record this time out, but this team still enjoyed itself and displayed plenty of spirit. Captains Briana Bateman and Julie Gagnon provided strong leadership and earned all-star honors along with goalie Kristin Petrone at season's end. High scorers on the team were Briana and Marie Lowell. Hannah Quimby won the most improved award, and Julie Gagnon won the award for sportsmanship. Now that some of Gould's new talent has had some experience next year's captains, Abigail Howe and Gwen Stockwell, look forward to a bright future.

Men's Reserve Soccer

Reserve power was considerable this year as the Reserve Soccer squad turned in a strong record under first time Gould coach Mr. Alford who led his team to a 4-1-1 season. This team often is the starting place for future varsity talent, and there was strong interest from above in the lower field program. The game with Gorham High School was not the fun high point of the season, but overall there was plenty of success and enthusiasm. Justin Wahlstrom earned the team award, and Mr. Alford enjoyed his Gould debut.

The Men's Reserve Team: fans made it tough for team members to find sitting room on the bench and one player lined up the wrong way; instead of a team picture, a team list: Aurelien Cotte, Jackie Chow, Jarrod Crockett, Jonathan Falby, Patrick Flynn, Sam Gibbs, Kenichi Kawaji, Chip Liscombe, Shawn Morales, Lanny Popoola, Lucas St. Clair, Justin Wahlstrom, Chris Rioux, Kwok Wong.

Women's Varsity Basketball

Gould's Varsity team stressed working together and came close to a winning season with solid offense from leading scorers Melinda Johansen, Sam Decker, Meredith DuPuy, and Asako Okada. Every member of the squad contributed and worked well with help from three coaches, Miss Caldwell, Mrs. Dohrmann, and Mr. Fiske. This was a good season, especially when considering the lack of experience of almost half the team. The sportsmanship award went to team high scorer Melinda Johansen; Susan Slack earned the most improved award.

Men's Varsity Basketball

The Men's Varsity Team produced a strong season record of 10-3 with solid offense and vital leadership from three captains, Jason Portal, Jon Burrill, and Korrie McIntyre. Mr. Dohrmann's warriors put on exciting shows at the Field House and packed in large crowds of Gould fans. Jason Portal ended a fine career by winning the Charles Hurd Award, named for a former Gould basketball coach. Omar Robinson won the most improved award; the sportsmanship award went to leading scorer Korrie McIntyre.

Men's J.V. Basketball

The Men's J.V. Basketball Team featured many players who saw action on both the varsity and the junior varsity squads. First year Gould coach Michah Parzen followed up his successful soccer season with a winning 3-2 record with an enthusiastic group of hoopsters who had plenty of energy both on and off the court. Kwok Wong won the Junior Varsity Award and typified the desire and hussle on which successful basketball programs depend. Some varsity stars are gone forever, and the junior varsity talent of today will be needed for future years of varsity success.

Cross-Country Skiing

Cross-Country skiers at Gould enjoyed a fine season with a sweep of the top three spots and overall team victory in the John Sassi Memorial in Rumford against the state's top high school skiers. Matt O'Meara won that meet and was a top scorer when the nordic men finished third in the New England Prep School Championships. Captains Gwen Stockwell and Pat Cote won sportsmanship awards; Keavy Cook and Phoebe Hausman-Rogers earned most improved honors. Gould's nordic program deserves to be proud of its success.

Alpine Skiing Easterns & A

Alpine Skiing enjoyed a successful season with three different groups, the Eastern/Development team as well as A and B teams. The biggest thrill was having both the men and women win the MAISAD titles at home on the Sunday River course; Abby Eaton won the MAISAD league title. The strongest women's group in many years finished second in New England. Leah Muliero and Johann Jaremczuk were top Eastern skiers; sportsmanship awards went to Meredith Otten and Mike Savoie with most improved honors to Abigail Howe and Kyle Power.

Alpine Skiing B Team

Gould's B Team Alpine program had a very successful and rewarding season with lots of spirited, challenging competition with coaches Alford and Kirn guiding the group to realize its full potential. The season ended on a high note indeed with the women winning the MAISAD Championships and the men earning a third place finish in the competition; Kate Callahan earned a MAISAD championship title while Brian Callahan grabbed first place in the giant slalom. The junior varsity awards went to Kate and Brian Callahan. The coaches and the team deserve to be pleased with their work and with their considerable success on the slopes this year.

Ski Jumping

Insanity is not required to be a member of Gould's Varsity Ski Jumping Team, but good coaches and young people willing to take risks are needed. This year twenty-three different students tried jumping at least once. The team worked hard and did not let the elements or lack thereof get to them. Gould finished second in the meet at Proctor and came in third in the prep schools competition. Nathan Wight was second in that meet and was named to the NEPSAC All New England team. Gould's prep school team was Brendan Cook, Jeremiah Donaldson, Greg Matthews, Jesse Peck, and Nathan Wight. Coaches McGuire and Wight deserve credit for making this unusual sport possible at Gould.

Ski Patrol

Gould Academy's Ski Patrol program is a sports program in a sense, but it is more importantly a safety program for which students must take on adult responsibilities. Gould Ski Patrol members work as volunteers for Sunday River and help keep the slopes safe for all skiers, not just Gould students. Dr. Dresser provides dedicated leadership for the program which also requires dedication from patrol members long before snow arrives since they must complete a safety course in the fall or earlier to be accepted. This year's patrol was both busy and successful.

Rug Rats

Rug Rats may not sound as important as it is both to Gould and the Bethel community. The Rug Rats is the affectionate name given to the young schoolchildren from S.A.D. 44 with whom Gould student volunteers work, helping them become fearless and accomplished skiers. Mr. Sanborn provides valuable leadership for this logistically complicated program and sets the right tone for a challenging, and an equally rewarding, teaching assignment in which Gould students become teachers needing understanding and psychological flexibility as well as technical skiing expertise.

CARNIVAL: SNOW FUN

Winter Carnival was a freezing good time for all at Gould with plenty of cold air and snow to go with hot competition. With a lot of spirited help and leadership from class representatives the weekend special events went well, providing spectators with thrills and laughs. The tug of war provided harsh tests for both contestants and judges, not to mention spectators (standing around was a very dangerous event). Other important events included the amoeba race and some vicious action down at the rink. The Maine winters are long, and Winter Carnival at Gould is an excellent release for those suffering various forms of institutional cabin fever.

Cycling

Cyclists at Gould had an exciting season full of ups and downs and plenty of hard work to get ready during late winter for a six race schedule. Page Hadden provided solid leadership which helped earn four victories and two second place finishes; Page won the individual title with four race wins. Coach Wight enjoyed a strong team with veterans Chris Montgomery, Dan Varisco, and John Martinsen joined by newcomers Garrett Allen, John Edwards, Bean Falby, Matt O'Meara and Jon Shirley. At the season finale Championship Gould went out strong on the hills early, but the strategy did not cover a delay for a race driver's heart attack; Gould placed third.

The start of a cycling race is not an easy situation to navigate with all racers tightly packed behind a lead vehicle; one thing is certain — the pack will be a good deal more spread out by the time the race ends.

Baseball

Baseball enjoyed a sensational season by winning the MAISAD Championship with an outstanding 7-1 record in its second year back after a fifteen year absence. Great pitching from Gregg Harrington and Pat King coupled with .300+ hitting by Omar Robinson, Pat King, Eric Harlow, and Josh Otten kept the team winning. Pat King with captains Josh Otten and Gregg Harrington earned All-Conference honors. The Bowhay Award and the Sportsmanship Award went to Gregg Harrington; Shawn Morales got Most Improved. Coach Newell is justly proud of his team. Outstanding manager Nicole Halpenny and Coach Fiske were saluted by Coach Newell for their work; they will be missed.

Women's Lacrosse

Women's Lacrosse at Gould has become a powerhouse in the state with two championships in the last four years. This year's varsity had a perfect record of 12-0, and the women were also MAISAD champions. Caitlin Henningsen, Juniper Richardson, Holly Walega, and Po Yates were MAISAD All-Stars. The team owed much of its success to a potent offense which outshot opponents 2-1 as well as outscoring them. Co-captain Holly Walega led the attack with high scorers Lelo Reeves and Juniper Richardson. A strong defense also helped, led by co-captain Amy Todd. Holly Walega won the sportsmanship trophy with most improved honors going to Bekka Kuzyk. Miss Head guided the junior varsity team to a successful season with leading scorer Amber MacKenzie and J.V. award winner Becca Whiteley.

Men's Lacrosse

Lacrosse with 50 players in the program this season had the largest varsity squad in history, but still had to settle for a 3-8 record which does not really reflect the work of the team which just missed qualifying for the Division I Maine Interscholastic Lacrosse League tournament in May. The 1993 team was led by All-State defenseman and captain Jim Chastanet; he was joined by Jason Portal and Guillaume and Regis deRamel at the Division I All-Star game. Jim Chastanet won both the Banker lacrosse award and the sportsmanship trophy; Justin Wahlstrom won the most improved award. Leading scorer Kyle Power will be back next year as captain of the 1994 team. Gone will be veterans Linc Baker, Jon Burrill, Adrian Higgins, and Jason Portal.

There may be some problem finding all the members of the 1993 Varsity Lacrosse Team in this picture, not only because it's hard to see into the bus but also because there is only a portion of the bus in the picture.

J.V. Lacrosse

Building for the future is an important goal for any junior varsity team, but this year's squad had an excellent year in its own right and came close to pulling off a victory in the junior varsity tournament held this year at Gould. Mr. Rackliffe's warriors were full of enthusiasm and a willingness to be coached, good signs for the future of Gould's lacrosse program. Defense was a key to success and was led by Sam Gibbs' outstanding performance at goalie which earned him the junior varsity award. With half a dozen important varsity players graduating there will be places waiting for some of this team's eager and successful lacrosse players. The whole junior varsity team deserves credit for its fine season.

Asako Okada.

Men's Tennis

Men's Tennis had a great spring with a fine 9-2 record for the varsity squad, especially satisfying when compared with last year's rough 0-11 season. Hungarian exchange student Balasz Densco had an outstanding 8-1 mark at number two singles while great doubles, 9-1, came from Jason Gazzilli and Lucas St. Clair at number one; the duo were selected by the league's coaches to the MAISAD Tennis All-Star Team. Balasz Densco's overall enthusiasm and grace earned him the Sportsmanship Award; Lucas St. Clair was rewarded for his hard work with the Most Improved Award. Other key players were Tyssen Butler, 8-2 at number two doubles, Johann Jarumczuk, number one singles, and Amit Bhatt, number three singles. Depth made the team's success. The Junior Varsity team under the able leadership of Coach Heidi Kirn also had a rewarding season.

Women's Tennis

Gould's Women's Tennis program had both a spirited and a successful spring campaign. Varsity players carved out a winning record of 5-3 under the seasoned guidance of Coach Johnson. Jessica LeMay had an outstanding 7-1 record playing at the number two singles position. Kate Callahan, a senior veteran in the tennis program, held down the number one singles spot and made the semi-final round of the MAISAD tournament; Kate also was named to the MAISAD All-Star team. Maeve Lugris received the team's Sportsmanship Award, and Melinda Johansen earned Most Improved honors. An enthusiastic group of players worked with new coach Micah Parzen to make the Junior Varsity team succeed; some young Gould talent will be able to help the Varsity in the future. Coach Parzen was particularly impressed with his squad's attitude.

Activities

Gold Key

Gold Key members donate time to projects for the Alumni and Development Office with Mr. Todd and Mrs. Bernier to help with special weekend programs, telethons, and any other ventures which promote Gould; shaking hands, waiting tables, and stuffing envelopes are part of the fun. This year's large group did a good deal to help our school. Mr. Todd, Mrs. Bernier, and Miss Moorhouse enjoyed working with these spirited ambassadors for Gould.

Blue Key

Blue Key members perform a vital task for Gould by serving as tour guides for prospective students and their families throughout the school year, sometimes even during vacations. Many positive impressions of a Gould visit come from the warmth and effectiveness of our student guides. Mr. Graham and Miss Caldwell and the entire admissions staff are grateful for this group's good work.

Proctors

Proctors are vital at Gould; they provide real student leadership, by example and by action. Their year begins early working with Mr. Baker before school starts; this year they also worked with Mr. Sanborn. By the end of the year the proctors have given many hours of their time working with students in the dormitories and with other proctor projects. The proctors are elected by the whole school community. They make a difference. The Proctors: L to R, row one, Kate Callahan, Carrie Alden; row two, Brendan Cook, Eric Stirling, Page Hadden, Darcie Burnell; row three, Amy Todd, Omar Robinson, Kristin Petrone, Adrian Higgins.

Class Reps

Class Representatives are another vital resource at Gould; elected by classmates they help in many ways, organizing activities and improving the quality of life for all students: L to R, front, Toby Buckingham, Pat Cote, Keavy Cook, Katie Hutchins, John Oprendeck, Nate Parker; back, Molly Maloney, Bonnie Crocker, Meredith Otten.

Alliance Francaise

Celebrating French language and culture is the main goal of this group which makes an annual trek to Quebec to soak up French Canadian culture. Meetings held at the Ouwingas' nearby home often have something to do with baked goods. Pictured here are: L to R, Madame Ouwinga, John Oprendeck, Phoebe Hausman-Rogers, Aurelien Cotte (with flag), Sigrid Stanley, Sam Decker.

Reachout

Dr. Ouwinga's organization is a very good one because it is a group which does good and provides a link between the Gould community and the outside world. Dr. Ouwinga and his Reachout students try to make contributions to those less fortunate than most; they raise funds for various projects such as the Third World Children program. Another major activity is letter writing for Amnesty International. This year's group: L to R, first row, Pete Finn, Josh Ferranto, Phoebe Hausman-Rogers, Keavy Cook, Bonnie Crocker, Sam Decker; the rest, Nate Parker, John Oprendeck, Meredith DuPuy, Brian Burgess, Nedda Campbell, Jessica LeMay, Anne-liese Bass, Dr. Ouwinga.

Outing Club

Mr. Penczer loves the outdoors, and so do the Gould students who join him to the right in the soon-to-be-completed sauna. The Outing Club looks for ways to enjoy and protect the outdoors and gets involved in all sorts of trips and projects in the course of a school year. With Mr. Penczer from left to right are Danny Barker, Mr. Penczer, David Cilia, Judit Pecsnoi, Brandy Haught, Sarah Burgess, Tom Eckfeldt, Andrew Smith.

Workers in Wood

Woodworking with Mr. Ford is a learning experience where Gould students usually end up with something to show for their efforts, if not several things. Woodworkers did a required Shaker stool project before doing more difficult creations. Pictured with their leader in their secret workshop are this year's woodworkers: L to R, Joon Bum Park, Ericka Stevens, Abby Wiggins, Erik Renna, Dwight Blake, Doug Herberich, Stefan Foord, Mr. Ford.

Choir

Gould's Choir had a busy and rewarding year offering spirited singing under Mr. Smith's enthusiastic direction with a repertoire ranging from Snoopy to classic show tunes. Two other groups offering musical excellence were the flute ensemble of Chae-Kyung Jung, Nedda Campbell, and Anneliese Bass, directed by Mrs. Smith and Miss Wellehan and the A Capella singers led by Kathy Slack-Lamoreau and Miss Wellehan. The Choir in front of one of their favorite concert spots, Bingham Auditorium: L to R, first row, Sarah Burgess, Brandy Haught, Bonnie Crocker, Anneliese Bass, Meredith Otten; second row, Quentin Stockwell, Tristan Cuthbert, John Oprendeck, Jill Nowak, Sam Decker, Eric Stirling.

Cooking Club

Cooking has not been as popular an activity as eating at Gould, but things change. This year a group of leftist gourmets formed a loosely knit crew of students who like to play with their food, in an intellectual sense. With the help of faculty mentor and magic chef Doug Alford the group succeeded in having a few successful culinary adventures; details were hard to find as participants did not wish to talk with their mouths full. Pictured in between feeding frenzies, L to R: Tristan Cuthbert, Emilie Roy, Keavy Cook, Brendan Cook, Mike Savoie, Jason Portal, Lucas St. Clair, Regis deRamel, Amit Bhatt, Omar Robinson, Guillaume deRamel.

"GREASE": A Spirited Trip Back to the Future

A good time was had by all as Gould's drama group hit many high notes in its season finale production of "Grease" which hit the boards of Bingham Auditorium on May 21 and 22. With the help of many from the community here was proof that a small school can score a major success when it reaches out for local talent. Many laughs and many good tunes were the focus of the evening shows. Under the direction of Kathy Slack-Lamoreau stars Emma Terray as Sandy and faculty member Doug Alford as Danny did drive off into the sunset with the help of a large cast and plenty of back-stage support. There were many standout performances and a great orchestra led by Miss Wellehan and pianist Faye Hill.

Happy and proud members of the "Grease" cast deserve to be elated as they gather just after one of their two successful performances. Major roles went to Brigitta Dubin, Sam Langlois, Jill Nowak, Kristin Petrone, Quentin Stockwell, Rob Blake, Erik Reppen, Kevin Ege, Leah Bonnema, Emilie Roy, Meredith Otten, Eric Stirling, Greg Gnecco, Tristan Cuthbert, and Katie Hutchins. Important help from behind the scenes came from technical director Vicki Rackliffe, stage manager Sigrid Stanley, and property master Sarah Cohen.

Drama

Gould thespians had a banner year with their new director Kathy Slack-Lamoreau. Students worked on smaller projects and productions in the fall and winter before unveiling their spring extravaganza. The blending of Gould talent with Bethel area talent was crucial to the success of "Grease" and is a good sign for the future. The long tradition of success maintained by Mrs. Fiske seems to be in safe hands; this year's returning dramatists are already excited about next year.

POLAR BEARS: Are They Nuts?

Polar Bears are normal up in the Arctic, but down in the Bethel area this designation means seriously de-motivated folk who yearn for swimming joy of a very strange variety. Mr. Rackliffe takes these students and even some adult "bears" to different cold water spots after ice is out on Songo; the pictures prove it's still there. The timing is also crucial; before breakfast makes it ever so much fun. This year a large group started on the road to the ice cube award; many were successful, but they also paid a price in terms of having the blues of a clearly non-musical variety. On a more compassionate note a message from Mr. Rackliffe to Guillaume: "Tough luck, sport!" That is kinder than "Wait until next year." But without doubt old bears will return and will be joined by new ones. The question is: How much longer can Mr. Rackliffe keep going? He's getting old, and frankly the speed is not there any more.

YEARBOOK STAFF 1992-1993

Yearbook work can be very rewarding and a lot of fun too. Bosnia is a great place to vacation now. How about a yearbook convention there? But back in Bethel more immediate concerns include getting all seniors to give the yearbook staff some stuff for their pages. This year's yearbook staffs offered a unique blend of talents and suggestions. More work got done in the spring than any other season thanks to Carrie Alden, Briana Bateman, Erika Christie, and Jen Madore. John Stanley helped with photos. Special thanks also go to Nicole Halpenny who worked on the book during its annual summer crisis when normal staff is usually a solitary overstuffed male with a bad attitude and high blood pressure. Our Taylor Representative Stephen Law and the people at the plant in Texas were kind to us. Others who helped are pictured below left with a few from the spring squad. As Billy Pilgrim said, "Hello. Goodbye."

FOUR POINT

SENIOR POINT

Seniors again accepted the challenge of inner space and worked on campus in cozy indoor spaces with NTL (National Training Lab) facilitators. Seniors, initially, a bit skeptical ended up working with the process and learning a good deal about themselves and how to interact with others.; each core group was different: all shared risks and insights. Two of the photos on this page were taken within the secret world of a core group. The NTL adventure started with an energetic inquiry into some seniors who missed the Point, and before the last core group shut down many points were made. Overall this was a true learning experience. Seniors gained some new perspectives as well as some new skills which should make them more successful when they go off into that big bad world out there sometimes known as the real world. And if the world of NTL seems a bit cultlike, it is still fairly benign compared to a bunch of Jehovah's Witnesses or a renegade cell of Young Republicans.

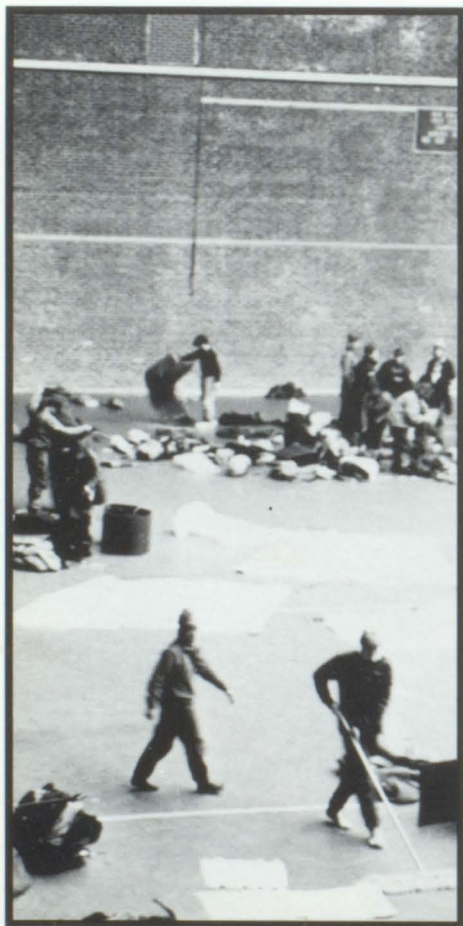

FOUR POINT is many things to many people, a welcome chance to try new kinds of learning after winter grows long in Maine. Each class has a separate adventure which helps students both individually and collectively. Life is not always fair: freshmen got the beach, juniors the freeze; no group really got the shaft.

JUNIOR POINT

Cold fun is the goal of the Junior Class's adventure in the Maine woods, and along with all that fun comes learning, risking, and varying degrees of unfun depending on how well the group functions as a team. Some students prefer this to sitting in class; others see it quite differently, but it is certainly a hard experience to ignore. There was no lack of snow this time around, and most of the class made it back to Gould in time to enjoy a warm, better make that hot, shower and a change of clothes before going on a well deserved vacation. The Junior Point is famous for many reasons and is an essential part of a Gould education. Valuable lessons are learned outside classrooms, but there are far too many Americans who grow up without learning the outdoor wisdom which this point offers. And sadly it's safer freezing in the woods than running around loose in many of the "civilized" parts of the planet.

SOPHO- MORE POINT

Sophomores aim their Point at helping others by working with the Habitat for Humanity program which builds affordable housing for those in need. This year under the overall guidance of Mr. Cousins for the last time the Sophomore Class formed three crews to work sites in Hartford and New London, Connecticut, as well as another one in Cohasset, Massachusetts. The sophomores returned to Gould with a sense of accomplishment and a better understanding of the importance of service projects. The aim of the Point is obviously not to turn out future crackerjack contractors, but it may appear from one photo on the page that a career has been found. Sorry, Mr. Ford, take another more careful look around: hint, look for a cooler hat.

FRESH- MAN POINT

International adventure was served up to the lucky Freshman Class for a second year in a row. While Juniors struggled for shelter in the snow their younger school-mates headed for the beaches of the Dominican Republic, the same island where Mr. Cousins had the umbrella concession a few years back when Columbus landed. The cold Gouldies enjoyed their adventure with their Dominican student hosts from the bilingual St. George School; as much as the Dominicans had enjoyed their two week outing in the Maine winter, they still seemed willing to be back on their beaches where skiing at Sunday River seemed a long way off indeed. The exchange program between Gould and St. George was a big success on both sides; the Gould students know more about pineapples now while the Dominicans know all about snow. On a more serious note from Dr. Dresser: "The most important thing our freshmen can gain is an appreciation of the existence of lifestyles, social, economic, and geographical differences so close to our borders." What a way to learn at the end of a winter term!

COMMENCEMENT

May 30, 1993

Graduation Weekend finally arrived for the Class of 1993, a day once impossibly far off passed too quickly to contain the many emotions and thoughts which surged through a unique group of young men and women; the passage from students to alumni and alumnae was sudden. The weather sort of cooperated, and family and friends as well as graduates seemed on the whole delighted. Commencement speaker Trudy Coxe, Massachusetts Secretary of Environmental Affairs, gave the Class a fine speech which reinforced a valuable lesson — that individuals who have some extraordinary degree of impact are found in all places, and that all people have the potential to make a difference in the lives of others. Eric Stirling spoke to his classmates with sincere eloquence and went on to collect a lot of prizes. Mr. Clough gave thanks and a chair to Bill Cousins for his career of thirty-four years before the diplomas finally arrived. Graduation was a spirited and happy affair; the day before Baccalaureate also went well. Gould's 157th Commencement had many memorable moments. The pictures on these two pages and the next do not try to represent such moments as much as they try to capture some of the joy and symbolize some of the spirit of the occasion. This was a weekend to be proud of accomplishments before heading off into new directions full of the sorts of risk our headmaster keeps telling us are required for life to reach its best potential. The Class of 1993 wishes happy risks for those it leaves behind. It is hard to believe that something as important as graduation can be over so quickly.

Moments That Used To Be

But What of the Future?

Dave Letterman couldn't have this one on his show at NBC, but maybe CBS bosses won't be as afraid to make television history and bring this Bethel act to the Big Apple.
